Two decades of good design

Nigel Roberts, Managing Director of Paramount Office Interiors Ltd

Paramount celebrated twenty years in business this April, and although market conditions are tough they have recently completed some of their most exciting projects to date.

These projects included the conversion of the former Giles Sports Distribution Centre into 75,000 sq ft of grade 'A' BREEAM excellent offices linking to a multi-storey car park with 300 spaces. This £7 million refurbishment has the largest flexible floor plates of any building in Cardiff with natural light flooding in through the large glass atriums creating a stunning environment.

Paramount were awarded the design and construction of the next phase of Glamorgan County Cricket Ground in order to prepare the stadium for the Ashes Test Match. The work has included the construction of sixteen new hospitality boxes, two new lounge/bars, a hospitality area under the media centre, new radio and TV boxes, an area for 90 journalists, a new tri-vision screen and parking bay for the new state-of-the-art Hover Cover. Without doubt one of our most challenging but most rewarding projects to date. When asked about the project, Paul Russell Chairman of Glamorgan Cricket Club was quick to heap praise on Paramount saying:- "The task that needed to be undertaken to complete the stadium for the Ashes was both complicated and diverse, choosing the right Design & Build Contractor was imperative, and I am delighted to say in Paramount we got it right. They took hold of the project from day one, their management team are very capable and easy to work with and the project will be completed ahead of schedule, a good month before the start of the Ashes, and for this I am extremely grateful."

Paramount were appointed as designers and contractors on Fairway House, a statement building in St Mellons which has recently been let to WSP, a firm of international design engineers.

Finally, our own new offices in St Mellons are as you would expect, a great example of what Paramount are able to provide to the world of interiors, with the latest materials and products on view. We would like to extend an invitation for you to meet our dynamic and experienced team led by chartered professionals and gain a full appreciation of our capabilities.
